Old Lawrencian C. Vijaykumar Appointed as President and CEO, HCL Technologies

The School is elated to share the success story of a former pupil, C. Vijaykumar (1981-1986), who was recently appointed as the President and CEO of HCL Technologies. He has achieved an extraordinary professional accomplishment by even the most discerning standards.

C. Vijaykumar joined HCL Technologies in 1994 as part of the founding start-up team at HCL Comnet and has been instrumental in pioneering the Remote Infrastructure Management Proposition which has become a hallmark in the industry.

He is known for his leadership style and deep connect with teams and customers alike, which has been commended in the business bestseller, 'Blueprint to a billion: 7 essentials to achieve exponential growth'.

Vijay holds a Bachelor's degree in Electrical & Electronic Engineering from P.S.G College of Technology, Tamil Nadu. He is presently based in the US.

The School is deeply honoured to have a former student excel in such a challenging career. His story is sure to prove to be an inspiration to young Lawrencians.
